

Our School Dog... Dexter's News!

November 2025 - Post No.70

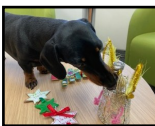

What a chilly one!!! After a rather mild start, the temperatures have really plummeted and I for one am not a fan! Having said that, I do seem to be able to find the snuggliest of places, in my doughnut bed (or any of the four others!), next to a radiator or I'll even settle for a warm lap! When I attend senior management team meetings or staff meetings (not sure if you knew how important I am?!?) I select my favourite teacher of the day and grace them with my presence; usually squiggled, soaking up their body heat... and of course making a significant contribution to the strategic direction and management of the school. In fact, I'd go as far as to say, I'm not sure what they'd do without me!

However, I must confess, compared to October, this month has been a little less eventful for me. It started with Miss Redman going away for a conference so I had to stay at home and then there was those awful fireworks (I know lots of you love them but they are just so noisy and unpredictable!) so again I had to stay away from school to keep me safe.

Of course when I have been in school I have made the most of it. There have been quite a few late nights with PTA meetings, two Parents Evenings and even a wreath making session!

Other school based activities have included popping in to offer my support with all the Nativity and Carol Service rehearsals, attending class assemblies and of course front playground duty! In addition to this, as you can see, I was given the prestigious role of judging the WISPA Christmas Decoration Competition. This was not an easy task, there were SO many creative designs and it was crystal clear that the children had worked so hard and carefully to make such impressive decorations. Finally I finished off the month at Yateley Christmas Market, watching our two amazing choirs perform a few Christmas favourites to an adoring audience - as always they were brilliant! I also had the prestigious task of choosing Christmas trees for WIS and WJS—I really am so important, just call me Santa Paws!

Can you believe that we are heading so quickly to the final month of the year? We have got so much festive fun, I just can't wait! I know Miss Redman says no festivities until the 1st December but... it is beginning to look a lot like Christmas and I can't wait!

Love,

Dexter
